The Institute is directed and taught along with the above listed presenters by Dr. Miriam Klein Kassenoff. The Institute will provide knowledge and a framework for teachers (Social Studies and Language Arts teachers; Library Media Specialists; Adult Vocational and Life Skills teachers, grades 4-12) in preparation for teaching the lessons of the Holocaust by encouraging students to develop character, compassion and civility in their daily lives. The Institute will enhance for the participants the following:

- ✓ Knowledge of the History of the Holocaust, its accurate and precise documentation, timeline of events, glossary, and historical relevance to society today.
- ✓ Awareness of the major critical, ethical and moral issues raised in the study of the Holocaust through institute participation dialogue and literature analysis
- ✓ Ability for developing sound pedagogical practices for teaching the Holocaust in all grade levels where appropriate
- ✓ Familiarity with the wealth and scope of primary historical documents, literature, materials, and resources that will augment a study of the Holocaust
- ✓ Understanding the Holocaust, its implications for today, meeting Holocaust Survivors and hearing their first-hand testimonies of survival and perseverance
